MARRIAGE.

On the 8th November, at Christ Church, Yoh-hama, by the Rev. E. Cunningham Irvine, M.A., Canon, MONTAGUE, son of the late DAVID BURNES, Melbourn, Australia, to MARGARET, eldest daughter of the Rev. J. H. DAVENANT, Barton-on-Humber, Yorkshire, and cousin of The Rev.
Henry Evelyn, Bishop of Kinsale, Japan.

The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, NOVEMBER 19th, 1897.

GERMANY has for some time past been desirous of obtaining a naval station in China and surveys have been conducted along various portions of the coast with a view to making a suitable selection. China, it is believed, would be prepared to make the necessary concession, provided the locality selected was such as would not too seriously wound native susceptibilities.
The murder of two German priests in Shantung has, however, afforded Germany an opportunity of promptly taking what she requires by way of reparation, instead of having to carry on wearisome negotiations in reference to the acquisition of some less desirable site. Kiao-chow Bay has accordingly been occupied, and the promptness and energy displayed cannot be too highly appreciated. The course adopted stands out in favourable contrast to the hesitations displayed by Great Britain in reference to the outrages in the Yangtze Valley and the Kiauchow massacre. It is a reversion to simplicity of the "gunboat policy," which is the only policy that can be really effective in China. According to Reuters the German Press is urging the Government to permanently occupy Kiao-chow as a naval base, and we think there can be little doubt that the occupation is intended to be permanent.
It may, of course, be intended to occupy the place only temporarily as a means of bringing pressure to bear upon China—and such pressure would be severely felt and prove effective in securing compliance with whatever demands might be put forward—but we ordinarily hope the permanent occupation of Kiao-chow will be the sanction insisted upon for the outrage that has been perpetrated.

Kiao-chow Bay is situated on the south coast of the Shantung promontory in lat.
36 N. and long. 120 E. The bay is a magnificent sheet of water at the head of which stands the city of the same name.

After the taking of Port Arthur by the Japanese it was in contemplation by the Chinese Government to create another great naval arsenal at Kiao-chow, and the port was also one of those which Russia was to be allowed to make use of under the celebrated Cassini secret treaty. The treaty, after according permission to Russia to use Port Arthur, went on to say:—"If, however, in order to avoid complications with other Powers it be deemed "inadvisable to use Port Arthur as a depot," then Russia shall be permitted to use the harbour of Kiao-chow Bay, in Shantung Province; there Russia shall be at liberty to enter or leave the harbour at will, to "canton her troops, and she shall also be "allowed to build barracks for her land "troops and coal sheds, etc., in order to fill "no urgent want on the part of Russia." What Russia will say to Germany's annunciation of the port remains to be seen, but very possibly there may be an understanding between the two Powers on the subject.

THE news supplied by Reuters to the effect that Prince Henry of Orleans is preparing an expedition, including a corps of Hausa veterans from the West Coast of Africa, with the object of assisting M. LEONTIEFF to oust General Sir HERBERT KITCHENER in the occupation of Khartoum, &c., is interesting and may prove important. According to this statement, a French Prince (not recognised by the French Government) is to be allowed to fit out a filibustering expedition at Marseilles against a country with which France has friendly relations, and, in conjunction with another filibuster of the name of LEONTIEFF, will lead the Abyssinians to Khartoum to prevent the Egyptians recovering possession of that place. He is of course welcome to try, but we trust that if the Sirdar comes into collision with this prince, he will treat him as any ordinary filibuster. Prince HENRY is evidently playing to the French gallery. He has taken a leaf out of NAPOLEON III's book, and fancies that by pandering to French vanity he may acquire such popularity as would enable him eventually to run for the Presidential chair. After that the rest would be easy to a ruler with military force behind him. If, however, the French want a King to reign over them, they can readily find one possessing better claims and a more interesting personality. The Duc d'ORLEANS, who is at once the direct heir of LOUIS PHILIPPE and the Legitimate successor to the French Throne, would no doubt be willing to accept the crown, though it is improbable he would stoop to scheme for it by conspiring or by trading on popular passion. But France has no yearning for either the Monarchy or the Empire, and there is little chance of Prince HENRY's ambition ever being gratified except through some grave mistake of her Republican rulers bringing about a huge disaster and causing a complete revulsion of national feeling in favour of another form of government. In the meantime there remains some possibility that this pragmatic prince may stir up mischiefs. He has already succeeded in causing the withdrawal of French troops distinctly disapproved he may be the means of some day involving France in an unpleasant dispute.

A meeting of the Legislative Council will be held on Monday at 3 p.m. The following is the order of the day:
Report of the Finance Committee on the First Reading of a Bill entitled "An Ordinance to facilitate the recovery of Possession of Small Tenements." to amend the law relating to Yagras."

N.B.—A meeting of the Finance Committee will be held immediately after the Council.

It will be seen from our report of the meeting of the Sanitary Board held yesterday that some cattle at the Dairy Farm are suffering from foot-and-mouth disease. The public, however, may rest assured that the milk supply will not be tainted, due precautions having been taken. The Dairy Company has been particularly unfortunate in regard to the health of its cattle. In the first place, the cattle of the company, situated at a most serious loss to the Company, and only a very short time ago several of the cattle suffered from acute diarrhoea, while the foot-and-mouth disease has been prevalent in the cattle. He is covered to the authorities that the disease may have been maliciously communicated to the animals.

We have received from Messrs. Kelly and Walsh, Limited, a Christmas card which ought to prove immensely popular for sending home and especially to old residents. It contains a view of the Hongkong Club's handsome new premises, reproduced in colours by O'Connell in his best style, and on the opposite side a series of interior views—the billiard room, the library, the reading room, and the dining room—with the club-house as a background. Messrs.
Kelly and Walsh are to be congratulated on their enterprise in putting out such an excellent card, which will be followed by many others giving local views in colour. The cards are to be sold to clients at home as well as abroad, but with a view to the fact that the card is one of the best of its kind, it will at once become a very popular card.
